Professional Licensure Disclosure Statement: Nova Southeastern University, Shepard Broad College of Law, is an ABA accredited program of study. Graduation from an ABA accredited college of law meets the educational degree completion requirement for to be eligible to sit for a bar exam in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. Students should note that requirements for professional licensure can vary by state. Certain states may require, or are considering requiring, that particular electives be taken for licensure in their jurisdiction. Because these requirements can change frequently and often without notice, it is strongly encouraged and is the responsibility of the student to ensure the student will meet all requirements for licensure in the states in which they seek to be licensed. The College of Law cannot confirm whether an individual student will meet all of the licensure requirements for a particular jurisdiction. Students should refer to their state licensing body for further information. For individual state bar contact information and requirements, please see <http://www.ncbex.org/>
