The letters given in brackets after each title are explained in the floating box on the right hand side of the page. We purchase these electronic books from various sources, so you must gain access to the database which houses the title.

For example, if there is an [M] after the title, you must gain access to MDConsult database to access the book. If you need help with the database, consult the guide in this orientation booklet. The only database not included in this booklet is StatRef! This is a very user-friendly database with good help screens. You can print individual pages from these books, but not the whole book.
