

Chris Voehl was recently recognized as an Instructor at Nova Southeastern University.

Sandra Pierce, Executive Director of Executive Education and Educational Outreach at the Huizenga School of Business and Entrepreneurship recently said: “The Lean Six Sigma Yellow, Green and Black Belt executive education courses that we offer have been highly sought after and well received in large part due to our excellent Black Belt instructors. Chris Voehl, Master Black Belt, is not only highly skilled in leading Lean Six Sigma projects for organizations, he is also a talented instructor who relates well to his class participants. We are very fortunate to have Chris Voehl on our teaching staff”.

To learn about available courses, click here.

For additional information on the pioneering Design for Six Sigma (DFSS) In Middle-mile Broadband, an excerpt from a larger work to chronicle this effort is available online:

<http://www.wispa.org/?p=4993>

To reach Chris, email: chrisvoehl@yahoo.com