Project Muse

DESCRIPTION

- A full-text database
- Over 100 journals in the fields of literature and criticism, history, the visual and performing arts, cultural studies, education, political science, gender studies, and many others
- Date coverage varies; the earliest is 1993

HOW TO SEARCH

Step 1: Type terms in the “Search for” box. If you type a phrase, such as “gender bias,” your whole phrase will be searched.

Search For: gender bias in All Fields (w/text) ?

and and and

Search Clear

SEARCH TIPS:

- ◆ Quotation marks aren't needed; the database will search your phrase automatically
- ◆ Use the pull-down menus for AND, OR, or NOT.

Step 2: Click “Search.”

- If your term contains a hyphen, include the hyphen (for example, “Reid-Pharr”).
- Searching is not case-sensitive.
- Searching is on EXACT WORDS. If you need to search for variations of a word, truncate it with an asterisk (for example, “histor*” will search for “history,” “historical,” etc.).

If your search retrieves too many documents ...

- Try searching for multiple concepts (using the advanced search option) by typing in multiple terms in the search boxes and using the pull down menu to “and” them together.
- Try Project Muse’s limiting options found in the advanced search. You can limit to articles in the “By Type” pull-down menu, and you can limit to journals in a specific subject area in the “By Journal” pull-down menu.
