About this Guide

The Diversity Resource Guide is a helpful tool for students, faculty, and staff, who are interested in multicultural issues at Nova Southeastern University. The listings—of NSU multicultural student organizations, local restaurants, various services and more—are intended to serve as a useful reference, particularly for new students as they get acclimated. Please note: This guide is not intended to be a complete listing of all available resources. Please email any suggestions about useful information not included in this guide to: multicultural@nova.edu.

The inspiration for this guide came from NSU students of various ethnicities, cultures, and backgrounds, who voiced the need to feel a greater sense of connectedness to the university and the surrounding community. It is our hope that this guide, modeled after best-practices in similar guides by other universities, will serve as a resource and a means for students, faculty and staff to connect with opportunities to experience, support and strengthen the diversity that enriches our campus and our community.
