Bibliographic references to nearly 900 nursing, allied health, biomedical, and consumer health journals. Not just an article indexing database, CINAHL covers books, audiovisuals, software, government documents, standards of professional practice and Websites.

Basically the database is in citation format; however, anything that is in the public domain, such as government documents, is available full text.

Subjects include

- emergency services
- occupational therapy
- physical therapy
- respiratory therapy
- surgical technology
- physician assistant
- biomedicine
- behavioral sciences
- radiologic technology
- surgical technology

Coverage: 1982 to present. Updated: monthly.