Finding Course Reserves Online

Start at the HPD Library home page to locate journal articles, class notes, etc., which have been placed online by your instructor.

You will be able to search by course name and number or by the instructor's name.

The words “View or Print” will indicate that this title is available electronically. Click on that line to access the item.
Your next screen will be a split screen. On the left will be sign-in boxes and a copyright statement. On the right will be the first page of the item. To view the entire article, type in your last name and NSU ID# and click on SUBMIT.

Use the icons along the top of this screen to rotate the pages if necessary, advance to the next page, and print out the article. DO NOT use the printer icon at the top of the Netscape or Explorer browser page.
This is another one of those changes that will be coming along soon. Your instructor will give you a unique ID and password for everyone in a particular course to use to access an electronic reserve. Only students in that course will be given access to that reserve item. Until this change is made, continue to use your last name and NSU ID#.
