Proof of Florida Residency for State Aid Purposes

The student or the person claiming residency (“claimant”) must be a Florida resident for 12 consecutive months prior to the first day of classes of the first semester of the academic year for which assistance is requested. The primary intent of establishing residence in Florida must not be for the purpose of obtaining an education. Other persons not meeting the 12 month legal residency requirement may be classified as Florida residents for state aid programs. Please review eligibility criteria below for details. If you have or will complete the 2017-2018 FAFSA, you or the claimant must submit one of the following documents to prove Florida residency.

IMPORTANT: If you will NOT be completing the 2017-2018 FAFSA, two of the following documents are required.

Submitted document(s) must be issued at least one year prior to the start of your semester.

- Copy of Florida Driver License or Florida Identification Card
- Copy of Florida Voter Registration Card
- Copy of Florida Vehicle Registration
- Copy of Florida Homestead Exemption (for 2015 tax year or earlier)
- Proof of a permanent home in Florida which is occupied as a primary residence by the student (if independent) or the individual's parent (if dependent, as defined in Section II). For example, a lease agreement.
- Transcripts from a Florida high school for multiple years if the Florida high school diploma or GED was earned within the last 12 months
- Proof of permanent full-time employment in Florida for at least 30 hours per week for a 12-month period

Applications submitted without residency documentation will not be processed.

Eligibility Criteria for Florida State Financial Aid

1. An individual who comes to Florida as an out-of-state resident to enroll in a Florida post-secondary educational institution will not meet the residency requirements for state financial aid purposes regardless of length of time enrolled.
2. The student must be a U.S. citizen or an eligible noncitizen. The following is a definition of “eligible noncitizen” for state aid programs as defined by the Florida Department of Education. This definition does not apply to federal aid.

A student is considered an eligible noncitizen if he/she is a(n):

- Visa Category V- Spouses and children of lawful permanent residents

3. Dependent students of divorced parents may take the residency of either parent who meets the Florida residency requirement even if claimed as dependent by a non-resident parent. A parent is either a natural or adoptive parent or a legal guardian. A dependent student will be considered to have met the requirements of Florida residency if the student has lived with a relative who has had day-to-day supervision of the individual for the past five years, and the relative meets all the requirements of Florida residency.
4. Residents of Florida stationed out-of-state on active military duty will retain Florida residency status, as will their spouses and dependent children. Active-duty members of the armed forces stationed in Florida, their spouses and dependent children, and full-time instructional and administrative personnel of state public schools, colleges, and universities, and their spouses and dependent children are classified as Florida residents.
5. The spouses and dependent children of active duty members stationed in the state will obtain Florida residency status as soon as their family moves to the state and active duty assignment begins.
6. The student must not owe a repayment or be in default under any state or federal grant, loan, or scholarship program unless satisfactory arrangements to repay have been made.
7. A student who has been classified as a resident for initial receipt of state aid funds by NSU may continue to qualify as a resident if the student maintains continuous enrollment at NSU with no break in enrollment greater than 12 months.
8. Florida financial aid may transfer from one eligible institution to another, provided that the recipient continues to meet all eligibility requirements.
9. Students must be making Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) as defined by NSU as well as defined by the Florida Department of Education. Academic requirements, including grade point average and enrollment requirements, vary depending on the program.
