About Nova Southeastern University (NSU): Located in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, NSU is a private, not-for-profit institution research institution accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Classified as a research university with "high research activity" by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, NSU is 1 of only 59 universities nationwide to also be awarded Carnegie's Community Engagement Classification, and is also the largest private, not- for-profit institution in the United States that meets the U.S. Department of Education's criteria as a Hispanic-Serving Institution. For more than 50 years, NSU has been fostering groundbreaking research and a commitment to community. The university awards associate's, bachelor's, master's, specialist, doctoral, and first-professional degrees in a wide range of fields, including the humanities, biological and environmental science, business, counseling, computing and engineering sciences, conflict resolution, education, family therapy, medicine, dentistry, various health professions, law, marine sciences, performing and visual arts, psychology, and other social sciences. NSU has campuses in Fort Lauderdale, Fort Myers, Jacksonville, Miami, Miramar, Orlando, Palm Beach, and Tampa, Florida, as well as San Juan, Puerto Rico, while maintaining a global presence online. The institution also has an excellent reputation for its programs for families offered through the Marilyn Segal Early Childhood Studies Center and the NSU University School. These include innovative parenting, preschool, primary, and secondary education programs, and programs across the life span for people with autism.
