GET READY TO DOMINATE!

2019 WEEKS OF WELCOME
AUGUST 14 - SEPTEMBER 2
The office of Recreation and Wellness is excited to announce the following opportunities to learn and enjoy scuba diving this fall semester!

Scuba Refresher - Offered Friday, August 23rd and Thursday, August 27th; 7:00 p.m.

The Scuba Refresher is a fun and easy way to review dive theory and practice dive skills after a period of inactivity. The course includes one classroom session and one pool session. Join our pre-scheduled class or contact us to set up your own private scuba review. This is not a certification course. We provide ALL equipment needed.

Discover Scuba - Offered Friday, August 30th or September 7th; 7:00 p.m.

The PADI Discover Scuba experience is a fun and exciting way to try scuba diving and to see what it is like to breathe underwater. No prior scuba diving experience is necessary, but you do need to be in good physical health. This is not a certification course. This class is FREE for NSU students, faculty, staff and alumni.

Open Water Diver - Offered Wednesday nights, August 28th - October 2nd, 7p.m.

This is the entry-level beginning scuba diver course. PADI Open Water Diver certification is issued upon successful completion of the course.

Advanced Open Water Diver - Offered Thursday nights, September 12th - September 26th, 7 p.m.

This is the second-level scuba diver course. PADI Advanced Open Water Diver certification is issued upon successful completion of the course.

Divemaster - Offered Friday nights, August 23, 30; September 13, 27; October 11, 25; November 1, 15, and 22

Divemaster candidates will learn the knowledge and skills necessary to transition from a recreational diver to a dive professional. Instructor-level academic knowledge will be developed in diving physics, physiology, decompression, equipment, and environment. Pool training includes perfecting skills to a level of “demonstration quality” for open water skills, rescue, navigation, and problem solving.

For more information and to register, please contact Bill Conrad, wconradi@nova.edu. We look forward to seeing you in the water!!!!
All ticket sales will be in the Don Taft University Center in front of the Office of Campus Life and Student Engagement from 12pm to 1pm.

Full-length Musical Comedy, Ages 13+
Music: James McDonald; David Vos; Robert Gerlach; Ed Linderman
Lyrics: James McDonald; David Vos; Robert Gerlach
“A zany, entertaining musical that takes a satirical poke at Agatha Christie mysteries and musical styles of the English music hall of the ’30s. Ten people are stranded in an isolated English country house during a raging thunderstorm. One by one they’re picked off by cleverly fiendish devices. As the bodies pile up in the library, the survivor’s frantically race to uncover the identity and motivation of the cunning culprit.” – Samuel French, Inc.

It all began in the summer of 1971 when founder, Kevin Koenig, set out to accomplish one mission: open his first waterbed store. With just $1,500 in his pocket, and an MBA from Florida Atlantic University, Kevin opened the first Waterbed City.

After 23 years of consistent growth, the waterbed industry had reached its plateau. Waterbed City evolved into City Furniture in 1994—offering not just bedroom furniture, but a full line of home furnishings to include living and dining room furniture, wall units, home theatre, and ready-to-assemble furniture.

It’s been over 20 years since the transition to City Furniture and with an incredible team of Associates, we have created a sought-after brand and top-rated shopping experience for our customers. Innovation, continuous reinvestments into our business, and a family spirited culture have created a destination where hundreds of thousands of Floridians have gotten their furniture. Today, we have 29 City Furniture and Ashley HomeStore locations throughout Florida and continue to be recognized as one of the top furniture companies in South Florida, and in the top 30 nationwide.

City Furniture’s Commercial Sales Department focuses primarily on large business accounts, developers and production builders. We have merchandised thousands of model homes in the past few years. We have also done hundreds of vacation rental homes and we help builders furnish their homes in less desirable lots in the communities. The furnishings in these less desirable lots incentivizes customers to purchase the homes. We recently completed work in the Marlins DEX club, helped refurbish the Dolphin stadium and redid all of the rooms at the Riverside hotel in Ft. Lauderdale. Our model home program drives millions of dollars into our showrooms annually. The customers visit the models in the community and then come to purchase furniture in our showrooms. We give away coupons/certificates in the models that have special offers enticing the customers to come and shop at our showrooms.

We would like your assistance in developing and understanding the apartment rental market better; focusing primarily on the millennial market. We would like to find out the average of how long the millennial market typically rents for, what is the average rent total, and what pieces of furniture are they interested in for their rentals (living rooms, bedrooms, dining rooms, etc.). We would like you to pull & analyze data to determine if renters are more interested in buying or renting furnishings for their rental units:

- How much do they expect to pay broken down as a percentage of the rent they pay, how do they want to pay (cash, financing, what type of terms are favorable)
- How long will they keep the furniture if renting or buying – does that amount of time change if renting or buying
- What type of style do they find most favorable?

Please prepare a presentation and show statistical data on how you arrived at your conclusion. How do we market and attract millennials into this new program? What have other companies done to attract millennials? Please show how you are obtaining this info and where you’re gaining these facts.
Prizes:
1st place-- $1,000
2nd place-- $200

Steps to Participate in Competition
1. Attend City Furniture Case Competition Information Session on September 11th.

2. Sign up your team for the competition by emailing Emilio Lorenzo at el541@nova.edu or Olivia Fogel at of107@nova.edu
   a. Participants can do the competition by themselves or have a team made up of 3 members.

3. Submit an short summary of your proposal for the case study by Monday, October 28th, 2019 to el541@nova.edu or Olivia Fogel at of107@nova.edu

4. Students will present their solutions to a panel of judges on Thursday November 14th between 12 p.m. – 5 p.m.
Vaccinations & Measles Outbreak Case Competition

Childhood vaccination has proven to be one of the most effective public health strategies to control and prevent disease. In an effort to reduce childhood morbidity and mortality, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) issues annual recommendations and guidelines for childhood and adolescent immunizations.

A new study shows that numerous states and large metropolitan centers have seen an increase in the number of nonmedical exemptions (NMEs) from childhood vaccinations granted (https://journals.plos.org/plosmedicine/article?id=10.1371/journal.pmed.1002578). In the past decade, the number of philosophical exemptions to vaccination has increased in two-thirds of the states that allow such exemptions. As a result, researchers suggest that these areas are becoming increasingly vulnerable to vaccine-preventable disease outbreaks.

Although school immunization laws in every state grant vaccination exemptions to children for medical reasons, states may also grant NMEs for other reasons. According to the National Conference of State Legislatures, 47 states have provisions that allow parents to exempt their children from receiving a vaccine if it contradicts their religious beliefs, and 18 states permit philosophical exemptions based on moral, personal or other beliefs.

There are a variety of reasons that parents refuse, delay, or are hesitant to vaccinate their child. These reasons vary widely between parents, but they can be encompassed in 4 overarching categories. The 4 categories are religious reasons, personal beliefs or philosophical reasons, safety concerns, and a desire for more information from healthcare providers.

Unvaccinated groups of people can generate local outbreaks of diseases that can later spread across the country, affecting anyone who was unable to get vaccinated for any reason. For example in 2000, measles was declared to be eliminated in the United States, when no sustained transmission of the virus was seen in this country for more than 12 months. However, since 2010, measles outbreaks (defined as 3 or more cases in a geographic area) have increased. In 2019 there were more than 1000 reported cases of measles across more than 20 states. Most of these cases occurred in unvaccinated people.

Contracting measles can be largely avoided through vaccination with the MMR vaccine. Though considered safe and effective, the MMR vaccine can have side effects. Most people who get the MMR vaccine do not have any serious problems with it. Common side effects of the MMR vaccine include sore arm from the shot, fever, mild rash, temporary pain and stiffness in the joints. The MMR vaccine has been linked with a very small risk of febrile seizures (seizures or jerking caused by fever). Febrile seizures following MMR are rare and are not associated with any long-term effects. Because the risk of febrile seizures increases as infants get older, it is recommended to follow the immunization schedule recommended by the American Academy of Pediatrics.

CDC Implementation TASK Force

The Center of Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) is spearheading a new task force to combat measles outbreaks. You have been selected by the CDC as a member of a three person task force in Florida, which will focus on how to increase the immunization rate in Florida, specifically addressing the number of nonmedical exemptions (NMEs) from the MMR vaccine. The CDC has asked that you address the issue from a Public Health, Psychological and Scientific perspective. Your task force will develop and submit a program proposal, which will be reviewed by the Florida Department of Health for approval of funding. The maximum request for funding would be $10,000. This proposal will aim to create a new program that will assist in combating the issue within Florida.

Implementation Plan Proposal Breakdown

1. Background and significance – maximum 500 words
   a. Describe the background and significance of measles and measles vaccination
   b. Describe the overall problem to be addressed in the context of biology, public health and psychology
   c. This section must include a clearly defined project goal
   d. Include minimum of 2 peer-reviewed articles, plus other credible sources
2. Define target population – maximum 300 words
   a. Describe specific population you are targeting in Florida
   b. Explain why you selected this target population

3. Program Summary/Approach – maximum 300 words
   a. Describe your program model and approach
      i. Describe the overall program strategy, methodology, and analyses to be used to accomplish the specific goals of your program. Discuss potential problems, alternative strategies, and benchmarks for success anticipated to complete the program.
      ii. Address any corresponding policy that will need to be addressed for your program to be effectively implemented

4. Innovation – maximum 75 words
   a. Describe how your approach is different from other approaches/models that have been used to improve vaccination rates

5. Proposed collaborations and partnerships – maximum 200 words
   a. Describe partners and collaborators you will need to engage to meet your desired outcomes

6. Evaluation methodology – maximum 300 words
   a. Describe how you will evaluate if your program works, including the specific indicators you will use to assess program effectiveness (process evaluation) and program outcomes (outcome evaluation).
   b. Describe how you will collect data and how often you will evaluate the progress of the program

7. Project timeline
   a. Present a program timeline: include critical milestones and mid-term and end of project deliverables

8. Budget
   a. Present a program budget: the purpose of the budget and justification section is to present and justify all expenses required to achieve project aims and objectives. (Ex: personnel, community resources, supplies, marketing, recurrent costs, logistics, state policy programs, awareness campaigns, monitoring costs etc.)

Early Immersion
Peer Leader Guide

Your instructor should allot about 20-30 minutes in the class to cover Early Immersion. In this time....

1. Tell them what Early Immersion is....

What is Early Immersion: Early Immersion is a 2-4 hours immersive hands on experience focused on a field of your choice. The Office of ExEL has partnered with each college and department on campus as well as a few community partners to provide these relative experiences.

Depending on the Early Immersion you select, you will have the opportunity to take a deep dive into a profession, graduate program, case study, community experience, networking or dialogue. Our goal is that Early Immersion will give you better perspective of your academic and professional goals and interest at NSU.

2. Share YOUR Early Immersion experience: We hope you had a positive early immersion experience and attended one that you were interested in. Please be as positive as possible.

   If you did not attend your preferred choice Early Immersion, this would be a good opportunity to share the importance of reviewing the calendar and registering as soon as registration opens so they have a better chance of getting their first choice.

3. Review Handshake: See PDF instructions with screenshots.

4. Share with your class that:

   a. Early Immersion registration opens on Monday, August 26th at 12PM (noon).

      Registration closes on Sunday, September 8th 12PM (noon)

   b. STUDENTS CAN ONLY REGISTER FOR ONE EARLY IMMERSION.

   c. Registration is a commitment to attend. They need to write it down in their calendars. Students cannot decide last minute to not attend an event they registered for. We will not allow them to register for an alternate event due to an unexcused absence.

      If a conflict arises with their registered event, they must come to the ExEL office 3 business days prior to attempt to reschedule. Due to capacity limitations the Office of ExEL cannot guarantee alternate placement.

   d. Transportation will be provided for any off campus events. If they are late to the meeting location (Shark Fountain in front of the UC), they will get left.

   e. Students will not be allowed to participate if they arrive more than 15 minutes late to the Early Immersion.

   f. All students will receive a reminder email 1 week prior to event. Some events have provided specific instructions and prior preparation for the experience. They need to show up prepared by making sure they read these emails from “NSU ExEL".

Immersion into Equine-Assisted Family Therapy
College of Psychology
Saturday, September 14, 2019 | 9AM –12PM

Event Description: Do you love animals? Are you interested in working in the field of mental health? Do you want to learn more about how horses are incorporated into therapy sessions? Then this early immersion experience may be for you! Equine-assisted psychotherapy is a strength-based, experiential approach to therapy in which individuals, couples, and families work with a team consisting of a mental health practitioner, an equine specialist, and a horse. This work addresses a wide range of mental health issues, such as anxiety, coping skills, personal/professional development, and more. All work is “grounded” meaning that there will be no riding and therefore no horse experience is needed! For this experience, students will meet at Stable Place Inc. located in Davie, Fl. to learn more about the growing field of equine-assisted therapy as they spend their morning at the barn amongst our herd. Through hands-on interactions with the horses, students will get to experience what an equine-assisted therapy session is like, as they learn how horses are incorporated into mental health interventions to help facilitate change.

Is Healthcare a Human Right? Sociological Perspectives

College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences

Event Description: Is healthcare a human right? Currently, whether an individual receives necessary and sometimes lifesaving or life-extending healthcare depends on many societal factors. Accessibility to and quality of healthcare often depends on birthplace, employment status, age or sex among other factors. Breathtaking inequality in relation to healthcare is exemplified globally - and locally. As healthcare costs continue to rise, will further obstacles arise as well even as treatments and research improve? Students will engage in hands-on activities including examinations of how societies influence what we believe about health, inequality, and medical systems including delivery of care - and why this matter. These academic debates that engage on society and its interaction with healthcare are crucial for those with interests in any of the healthcare fields as well as the social sciences.

<td>Event Description:</td>
<td>Small group (10-15 students) of HCBE accounting/finance students will learn about accounting/finance career path options and what the duties and responsibilities are of the NSU Financial Operations (“FOPs”) Department and its leadership team. Students will have an opportunity to meet the following members of the FOPs leadership team: the VP Finance/CFO, Assistant VP/Controller, Associate Controllers, Tax Director, Director Financial Planning &amp; Analysis, Treasurer, and Budget Director. They will learn about the details of the particular positions (requirements such as CPA, necessary skills, etc), the background and career path of the individuals, as well as functions of the office/examples of daily activities. Students will be grouped with FOPs leadership and will complete an interactive exercise applying accounting/finance concepts learned to example fact patterns in order to obtain a glimpse into what a typical day in the life of an accounting/finance professional may be like.</td>
