The Star-Spangled Banner* Key/Smith

O! say can you see by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched, were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there;
O! say does that star-spangled banner yet wave,
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

*Hail Thee, Nova Southeastern!
 Bright sun shining new;
 Radiant star of our morning,
 Ever rising, true;*

*May thy wisdom serve as our constant guide and thy love a beacon strong,
 as throughout the world we spread thy name
 joining voice in grateful song:*

*Nova Southeastern, Alma Mater,
 By thy light imbue,
 Service, honor, loyalty,
 'til our days are through.*

Love Thee, Gray and Blue!

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER FOR MORNING CEREMONY

Kathleen Harmon, Ph.D., is the president of Harmon/York Associates, a construction consulting firm she founded in 1983. The firm provides project management, organizational consulting, and dispute prevention and resolution services to the construction industry.

Prior to that, Harmon worked on the preparation of claims and defense of Miller Act suits at The Titan Group in New Jersey. She then moved to the position of construction claims analyst at Fogel and Associates in New York. She worked on the preparation and defense of claims with regard to extra work, acceleration, delays, impact costs, and analysis of project schedules, before founding her company.

Harmon has served as an expert witness as well as a consulting expert on various projects, including the 9/11 Memorial and Museum in New York; the UCLA Court of Sciences in California; AEP Cardinal in Ohio; the Sayreville Pumping Station in New Jersey; the Tropicana Hotel and Casino in New Jersey; the Bronx Criminal Courthouse in New York; John Jay Criminal College in New York; Navy Southeast Military Housing in Florida, Texas, Georgia, and South Carolina; the Harborwalk Condominiums in Florida; and All Children's Services, Belleview Hospital in New York.

She has published and presented extensively on conflicts in the construction industry, and she is the recipient of the 2003 American Society of Civil Engineers Best Peer Reviewed Paper Award for her article, "Conflicts between Owners and Contractors: A Proposed Intervention Process," published in the Journal of Management in Engineering.

Since 1988, Harmon has been a member of the American Arbitration Association and the Construction Panel of Arbitrators. She also is a member of the American Bar Association, the International Association for the Advancement of Cost Engineering, the New York City Procurement Policy Board, CDRB Neutral Panelist, the Dispute Resolution Board Foundation, the Association for Conflict Resolution, and the International Association of Conflict Management.

In addition to her work in the construction industry, Harmon serves as an adjunct faculty member at Nova Southeastern University's (NSU) College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences. She teaches courses in negotiation, arbitration, and conflict resolution.

Harmon earned her Bachelor of Arts in History/Social Studies Education from Rutgers University in 1977. She completed a construction technology program at New Jersey Institute of Technology in 1984, before returning to Rutgers to earn her master's degree in 1991. In 2003, Harmon earned her Ph.D. in Conflict Analysis and Resolution from NSU.

Harmon's dissertation research at NSU focused on Dispute Review Boards (DRB) in the construction industry. She conducted the largest national study of DRBs, significantly contributing to the field of conflict resolution and the construction industry.

DISTINGUISHED HONOREE

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER FOR AFTERNOON CEREMONY

Abby Freedman, J.D., is an elected member of the Broward County School Board representing public schools in District 4. Elected to the School Board in 2012 and re-elected in 2014, Freedman has served as chair, vice-chair, and in other leadership capacities.

Freedman is an active participant and represents the board on the Broward Regional Juvenile Detention Center Advisory Board, the Legal Service Committee, the Oversight Committee, the Medical Marijuana Advisory Board, and as a Legislative Liaison-Federal.

Mother of three sons and a resident of Parkland, Freedman advocated for children and served as a parent/volunteer activist at Broward County Public Schools for several years, offering her time, expertise, and support to teachers, administrators, and students.

A founding member of Not My Daughter...find a cure now!—an organization dedicated to raising funds and awareness in the fight against breast cancer—Freedman is a supporter of Jewish Adoption and Foster Care Options (JAFCO). She served as a godparent to children to guarantee them a safe environment. Freedman has been a key contributor to major fund-raising efforts on behalf of Temple Beth Am, Congregation Kol Tikvah, and District 4 public schools, which include Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School in Parkland. She also is a lifelong member of Hadassah, an organization with roles that include helping needy children and providing worldwide humanitarian aid.

Freedman earned a J.D. from Stetson University College of Law, and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of Florida. She completed elementary education coursework at Florida Atlantic University, and she was certified as an elementary and religious schoolteacher.

A native of East Brunswick, New Jersey, Freedman has worked as a financial officer and budget coordinator and served as a legal intern at The Pentagon, the headquarters of the U.S. Department of Defense in Arlington County, Virginia.

A Note on Photography

In order to maintain an orderly and dignified ceremony, one that our graduates can remember with pride and enjoyment, guests are requested to remain seated during the entire ceremony and recessional and to refrain from taking pictures of the candidates until after the exercises are completed.

The university has contracted with GradImages™ to take a full-color, close-up photograph of all graduates as they cross the stage, as well as a formal portrait off stage. Graduates will be contacted after the ceremony about purchasing the photographs. GradImages™, 3490 Martin Hurst Road, Tallahassee, Florida 32312, 800-261-2576, gradimages.com

Your cooperation will ensure that the commencement exercises will run smoothly and that the ceremony itself will be a fitting occasion to mark this significant milestone in the lives of our graduates.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

Ceremonial garments worn at academic functions take their meaning from the original centers of learning of the western world in the church of the Middle Ages. Caps, hoods, and gowns of the early students and monks have been held through the centuries to be traditionally symbolic of the scholarly devotion so basic to education and to the deliberate and orderly evolution of knowledge.

The introduction of classical studies, the gradual rise of the great universities across Europe, and the ever-increasing awareness of the decisive role of education in the entire development of civilization influenced leaders among academicians in their desire for a singular identity. In the attempt to create this differentiation, educators fell upon the medieval system of classic heraldry, whereby the coat of arms, assorted ornamental trappings, and patterns of colorful design had been adopted to denote the distinctive character of designated chivalric orders. The function of a pedagogical heraldry became, then, simply identification. As such, measures were taken to signify, through distinctive markings on the academicians' attire, the institution that had granted the degree, the field of learning in which the degree had been earned, and the level of the degree, e.g., bachelor's, master's, or doctorate.

Of the three pieces of academic attire—the cap, the gown, and the hood—it is the hood that offers the most abundant and most readily discernible information about its owner. The inner lining of the hood identifies the institution at which the individual earned the degree. Some schools have adopted two-color patterns and introduced chevrons and bars in various designs to set themselves apart from other institutions. The velvet trim bordering the hood indicates the major field of learning, or faculty, in which the degree has been earned. A final feature of the hood concerns its length and width and distinguishes further between holders of bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees. The length of the hood for the bachelor's degree is three feet, closed at the bottom, and with a velvet border of two inches. At Nova Southeastern University, however, individuals receiving a bachelor's degree do not wear a hood. A master's degree holder has a hood three-and-one-half feet in length with a three-inch-wide border, and the hood is slit at the bottom. Those individuals with a doctoral degree wear a hood four feet in length, open at the bottom with a five-inch border.

The cut of the gown aids in differentiating between the three levels of degrees. The bachelor's gown is relatively simple and falls in straight lines from an elaborate yoke. It may be recognized most readily by the long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown is somewhat fuller and bears no adornment. The sleeves are oblong in shape and open at the wrist, with the rear part of the oblong square cut while the front edge has a cutaway arc. The doctor's gown is more elaborate, with velvet panels down the front and around the neck of the garment. The sleeves are bell-shaped at the end and have three bars of the same material as the front panels at the upper portion of the arm. It is cut rather fully and may be ornamental in color.

The mortarboard or Oxford-type cap has been adopted throughout most universities in the United States, although tams have become increasingly fashionable to denote holders of the doctoral degree. Colored tassels are usually worn by holders of the bachelor's and master's degrees. These denote the field of learning.

The color, indeed the flamboyance, of academic dress undoubtedly adds to the sense of occasion at academic ceremonies. But as its historical roots show, it has a much deeper significance. It is an outward sign of the universality of universities, and of their responsibility for certain timeless values essential to the freedom of inquiry: tolerance of alternative views and courage in maintaining one's own tirelessness in the pursuit of truth and the free exchange of knowledge. Its wearing marks also the responsibility of the new graduate to maintain and uphold these ideals. These fundamentals of academic freedom have not been threatened in this country for more than 200 years, but the importance attached to the donning of traditional academic dress was underlined in recent years by scholars from Central and Eastern Europe; during the Cold War, their use of academic robes became a symbol of their refusal to be dominated completely by political forces and the state, and symbolized their persistent links to the worldwide community of scholars. Thus, the wearing of academic dress should be seen not simply as a sign of achievement, but as a symbol of the responsibility that falls on all members of universities.

HONORS

Students wear cords, pins, sashes, and medallions that reflect institutional and national academic honors as well as campus leadership, service, and engagement.

MACE

During the Middle Ages, the mace was an effective weapon in battle and also was displayed as a symbol to command order during royal gatherings, religious ceremonies, and university classes. As newer and more powerful military arms were created, however, the mace progressed into a symbol of authority and today is frequently used to lead religious and academic processions.

The mace was originally a wooden staff carried by royal messengers as a symbol to preserve order and usher royal functions. The early wooden staff of such royal messengers or lead ushers of ceremonial processions was transformed in the 14th century into an elaborate sterling silver mace. Eventually in the 15th century it evolved into a symbol of academic excellence and dignity.

THE NOVA SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY MACE

Before its merger in 1994 with Southeastern University of the Health Sciences, Nova University's mace bore a sterling silver "nova star" symbolizing the university's name and mission. Symbolically, Nova University's "nova star" burned brightly, providing educational enlightenment to the world. Today, a new sterling silver mace highlights the past, present, and future through the inclusion of the original "nova star" representing the university's past, surrounding the NSU seal. When not in official use, the mace is displayed in the rotunda of the William and Norma Horvitz Administration Building.

In Latin, nova means new or innovative. Nova Southeastern University was created to be an innovative educational institution—to take the best of traditional education from the past and mold it to fit the needs of students for today and tomorrow.

NOTE: The listing of degree and academic honors candidates in this program is based upon PRELIMINARY information provided by each academic program office at the time of publication. The official conferral of degrees and awarding of academic honors occur upon satisfactory completion of all academic requirements. Publication in this commencement program does not determine degree or honors eligibility or represent an official listing of degree or honors recipients. The student's permanent record, on file in the Office of the University Registrar, remains the official testimony of the possession of a Nova Southeastern University degree.
