

Everyday life

The everyday life of Barbara Farkas is quite a normal one as you see,
Going to school, seeing friends, living her life.
This is the normal life of Barbara Farkas.

The everyday life of Barbara Farkas
after the Hungarian army invaded is quite a strange one as you see.
Banned from school, labeled a Jew
This is the strange everyday life of Barbara Farkas.

The everyday life of Barbara Farkas the Jew is quite a sad one as you see.
After being stolen of her belongings, taken from her home,
living in a place she doesn't even know.
This is the sad everyday life of a Jew.

This is the everyday life of a Jew with a number.
It's quite a cruel one as you see.
Separated from family, worked to the bone,
working day and night for extra food.
Just to try to keep on living .
She is not human you see, she is only a number.
This is the cruel everyday life of a Jew with a number.

This is the everyday life of Barbara Farkas.
It's quite an inspiring one you see.
A person who survived.
A person who defeated all odds.
A person who's not a label.
Or a number.
A person who still fought.
To help other.
A person who survived.
To tell her tale.
She's an inspiration you see,
an inspiration to all.
To keep on fighting for yourself and always try to help others.
An inspiration to me.

This is my everyday life.
It's is a normal one as you see.
Going to school, seeing friends, living my life.
This is the life everyone should have,
but sadly it's not

Some people suffer,
some people are left behind,
To me,
This isn't right.

Barbara Farkas
and all the other survivors are my inspiration.
My inspiration to help other have the everyday life they should.
A life where they play and laugh,
and are happy.
Because
We are all human
Not colors,
Not labels,
Not numbers,
And we should all be able
To have this life.
A normal everyday life.

This is what these survivors,
who lives were anything but easy,
Inspire me to help work towards.
