FALL 2020

NSU's 5/1/20 Announcement:

NSU will resume in-person classes for the fall 2020 term at all campuses, subject to the Governor of Florida's executive orders at the time of opening, as well as CDC and local government directives.

Courses will also be offered via synchronous online delivery.

Fall 2020 Class Format

“NSU is planning to use the BlendFlex model for the majority of its course offerings. This model simultaneously offers face to-face and online delivery of instruction. NSU BlendFlex courses include a portion of the students attending in a traditional classroom setting, while the remaining students attending from a remote location using videoconferencing type technologies, including Zoom, as well as Canvas. There may be certain programs that do not lend themselves to the BlendFlex model, including courses requiring experiential learning, such as those containing laboratory and clinical components. Students should consult directly with their programs for further information regarding their course delivery model.”

Fall 2020 Class Format

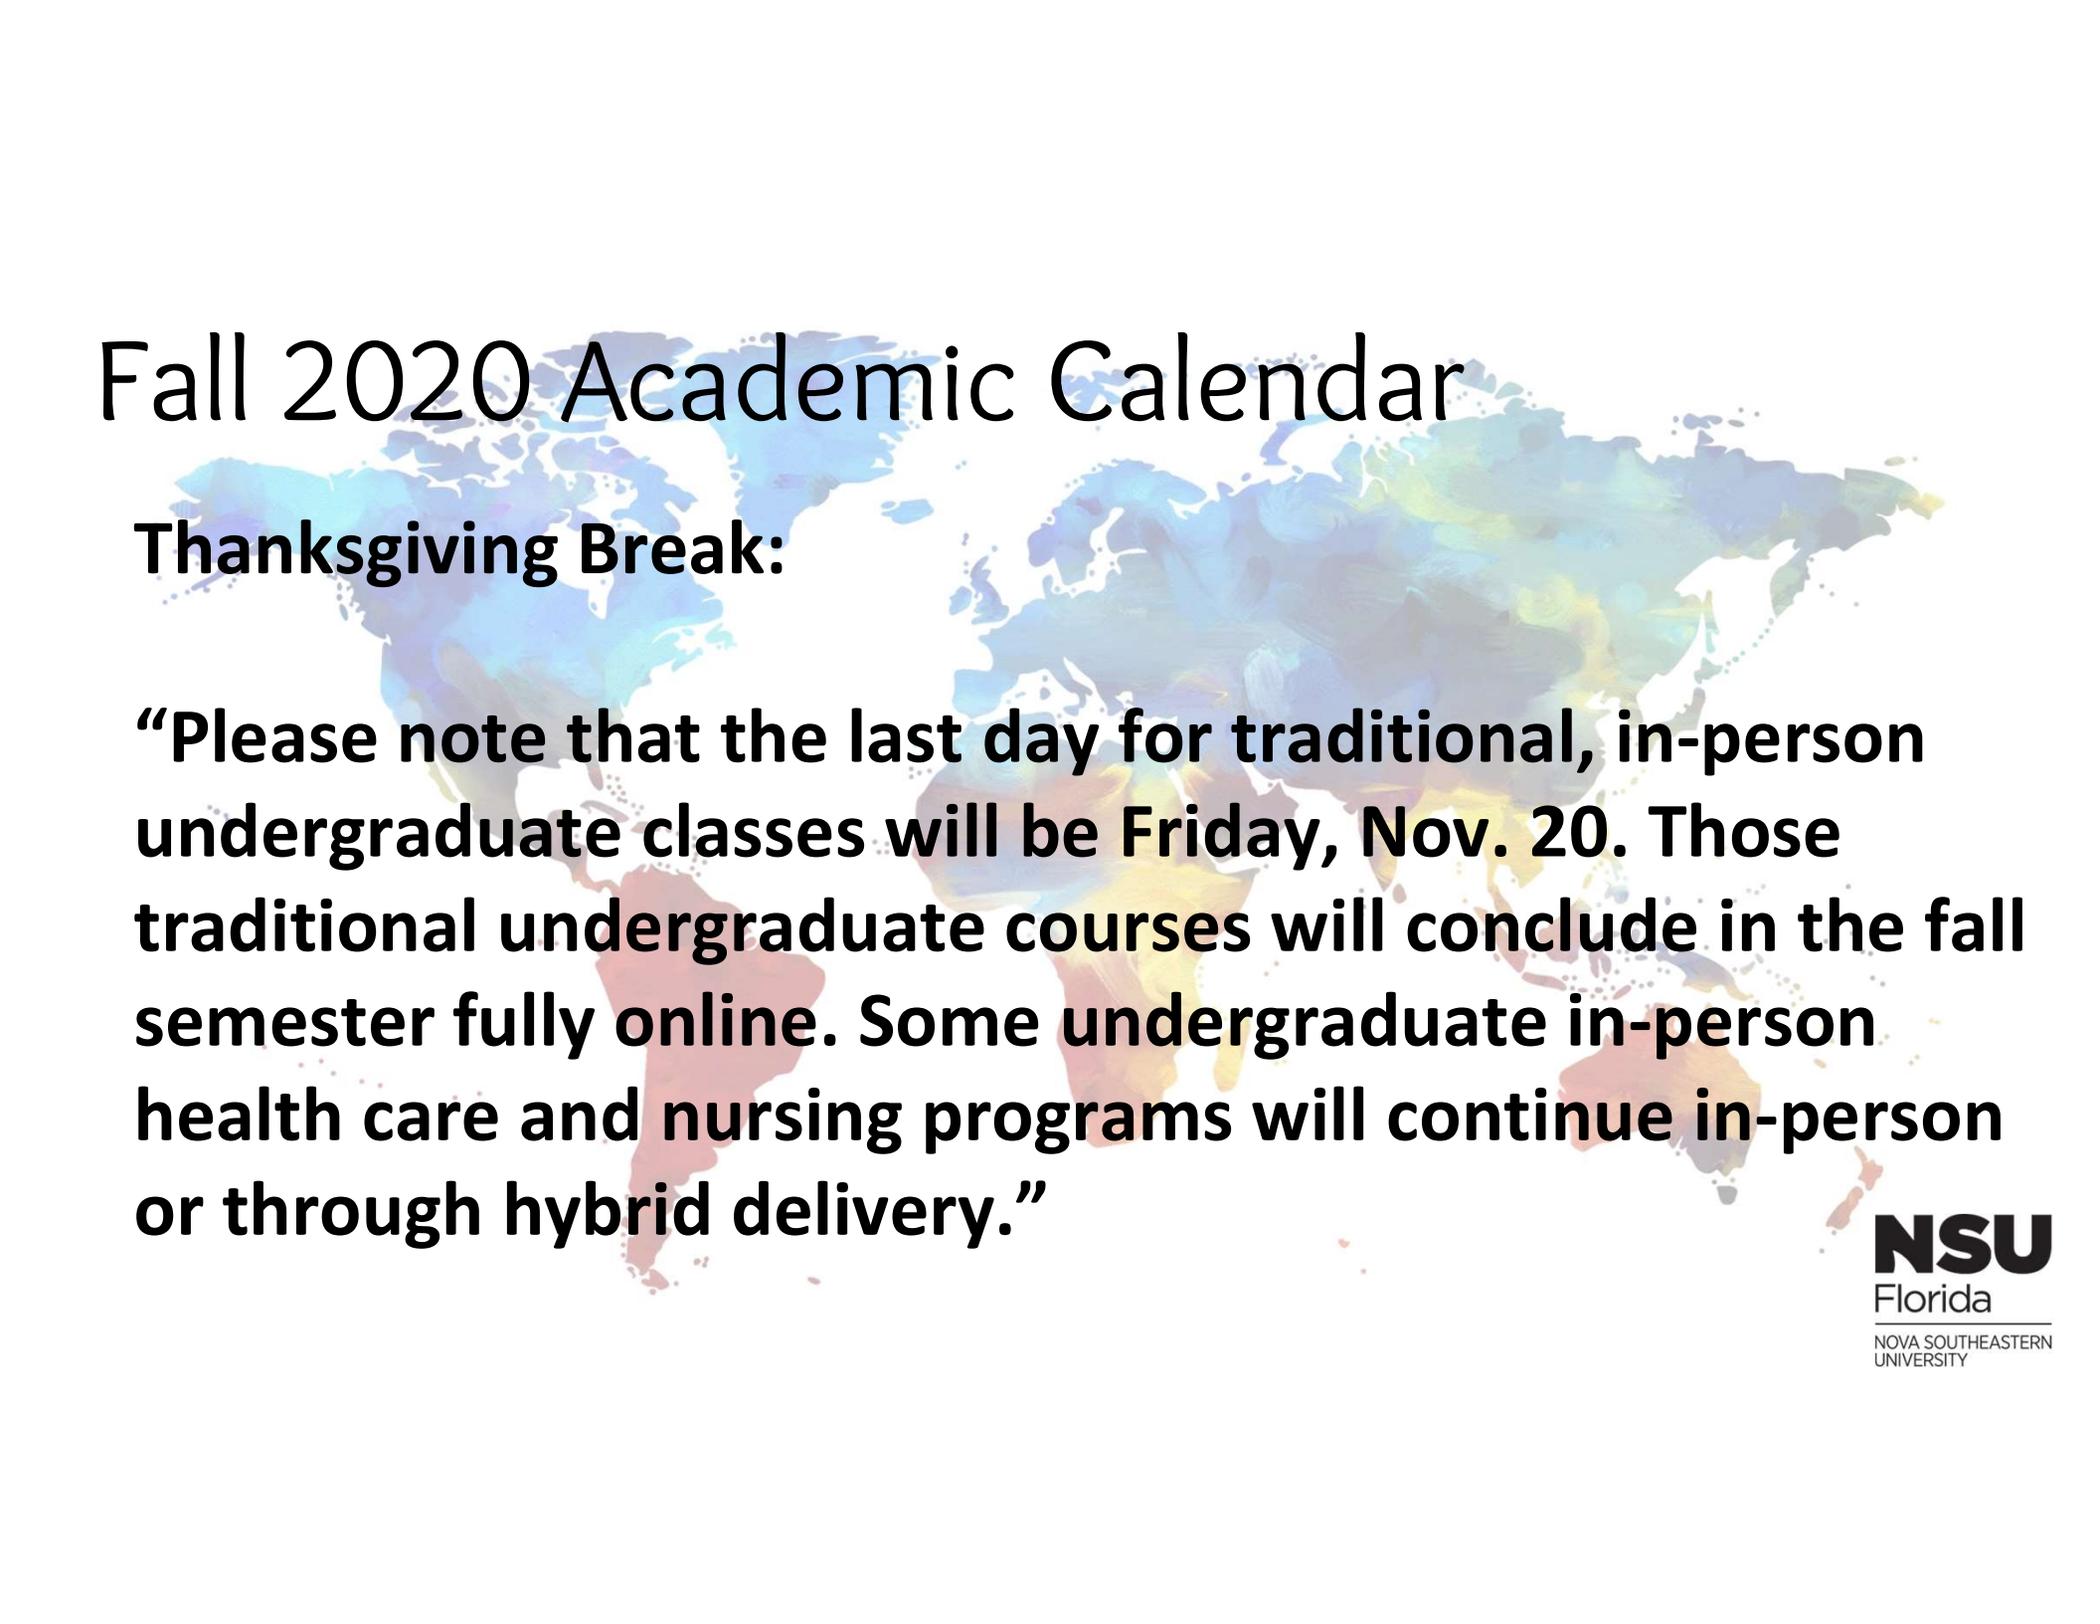

Blend Flex Model:

- 50% in classroom, 50% outside classroom
- Online aka “fully remote”

Synchronous: Classes are streamed “live” via Zoom at a certain day and time

Asynchronous: Classes are available 24/7

Fall 2020 Academic Calendar

Thanksgiving Break:

“Please note that the last day for traditional, in-person undergraduate classes will be Friday, Nov. 20. Those traditional undergraduate courses will conclude in the fall semester fully online. Some undergraduate in-person health care and nursing programs will continue in-person or through hybrid delivery.”

Housing:

Can we stay on campus from thanksgiving break to Winter start ?

YES

Visa Concerns

- Many U.S. embassies remain closed around the world, preventing the ability to get visa appointments (and visas) prior to start of Fall 2020 term.
- Students may not be able to obtain a visa in time to arrive for fall 2020. An alternate visa type (B-1/B-2) may not be used to study in the U.S.
- Students should plan to arrive on first year move-in date (August 12).
 - Certain programs (athletes, Razor's Edge, etc.) move-in early.
- If unable to arrive by move-in date, flexibility will be given to the extent possible by federal regulations:

I-20s for Fall 2020

- If you have already received your fall 2020 NSU Florida I-20, you will be issued a new one that includes a new remark that NSU will be offering sufficient coursework for you to study on-campus for fall 2020.
- You will need this new I-20 to enter! Your previously issued I-20 will no longer be sufficient. No new information will be required from you.
- This new I-20 will be issued by August 4, 2020 and sent to you by email.
- If you have not yet received your fall 2020 NSU Florida I-20, you will need to request a new I-20. Information on requesting your I-20 is available at www.nova.edu/admittedf1.

Travel Restrictions

- The U.S. has imposed travel restrictions on individuals coming from certain countries around the world and will not allow entry to the U.S. for anyone that has been in those countries for specific periods of time, typically 14 days.
- Certain countries (Canada, Mexico, etc.) have exceptions for “essential travel”, which does include attending a university. Most countries (EU, UK, etc.) do not have these exceptions. Consult specific restriction for details.
- It may be possible to travel to a third country and spend 14 days there before arriving to the U.S.
- Additional travel restrictions could be announced at any time.

Option #1:

at NSU Florida

Quarantine

- At this stage, still over one month out, we do not know if a quarantine will be required. We will follow local, federal and university policy at the time of arrival.
- Students who are required to quarantine will be permitted to do so within their on-campus housing.
- Students are not able to arrive in on-campus housing early to complete a quarantine.
- Blendflex and online coursework allows for students to complete coursework while quarantining. Students should notify instructors if they will need to complete a quarantine.

Option #1:
Study On-Campus
at NSU Florida

On Campus Coursework

- Students will be able to enroll in a mixture of blendflex and online courses.
- Even if not required by the instructor, F-1 students will have to attend in-person requirements for blendflex courses.
- All undergraduate coursework will transition to fully online after Thanksgiving Break, which begins on November 26. Winter 2021 (January) is currently expected to resume in person as normal.
- Blendflex courses will adhere to social distancing requirements. Masks will be required.

Option #1:

at NSU Florida

Housing

- Questions about housing should be directed to housing@nova.edu.
- Although subject to change, at this time we do anticipate that students will be able to remain in on-campus housing when coursework moves online (after Thanksgiving break) and through winter break.
- We do not yet have instructions for move-in procedures, including if parents will be able to assist with move-in and/or if parents will be required to complete any type of quarantine.

Option #1:

at NSU Florida

Orientation & F-1 Check-In

- Students will have:
 - First Year Orientation
 - International Orientation
 - F-1 Check-In (Active SEVIS record)
- Orientations are likely to include online and in person components.
- Additional details to be provided prior to arrival.

Fall 2020 Options

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

F-1 Status

- Reminder: If not arriving on campus by September 7, 2020, you are not able to study on-campus for the fall term.
- Students will not have F-1 status while they study outside of the U.S.
- Students will need to obtain an F-1 visa before starting on-campus for the winter 2021 term.

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

Course Registration

A stylized world map in the background, with colors ranging from light blue to red, representing different continents and regions.

- Both online and blendflex courses should be able to be completed fully online, from outside of the U.S.
- Blendflex courses may be synchronous, requiring students to log-in to a live course session, even if the timezone is inconvenient.
- Online coursework is usually asynchronous and does not require live attendance.
- Students will need a reliable internet connection to compete online coursework (including synchronous live video).

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

Enrollment Requirements

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

- Because students are not in F-1 status, they are not required to be in a minimum number of credits for immigration.
- NSU Scholarships (Dean's Scholarship, Razor's Edge, etc.) do require a minimum of 12 credits so students will need to enroll in at least 12 credits to maintain their scholarship.
- Certain academic programs may require full-time enrollment.

Tuition & Fees

- Online and blendflex courses are charged at the same tuition rate as on-campus courses.
- Students will have access to full range of university services, remotely.
This includes:
 - International Affairs
 - Academic Advising
 - Tutoring & Testing
 - Writing Center
 - Alvin Sherman Library
 - Center for Counseling & Wellness
 - Virtual events and programming campuswide

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

Transitioning to On-Campus

- Students will need to obtain an F-1 visa to begin their studies in person at NSU Florida, hopefully in winter 2021.
- Visa issuance is never guaranteed. While we hope that all students will be issued visas, it is possible that a student could be denied an F-1 visa even after completing a full semester online at NSU.
- Special accommodations are being made for fall 2020. Students should not assume that their academic programs can be completed online in winter 2021 or beyond, unless it is a program that is typically offered fully online.

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

I-20s for Winter 2021

- If you have already received your fall 2020 NSU Florida I-20, you will need to request a deferred I-20 for winter 2021.
 - Process for requesting new I-20 to be announced by August 1.
 - Updated financial information may be required for both new I-20 and for F-1 visa appointment.
 - If you have already paid your I-901 SEVIS fee, you should not need to repay this fee.
- If you have not yet received your fall 2020 NSU Florida I-20, you will need to request a new I-20. Information on requesting your I-20 is available at www.nova.edu/admittedf1.

Housing

from Abroad

Health Insurance

- Students living and studying outside of the U.S. for the fall 2020 term will be eligible to waive NSU's insurance policy and requirement.
- When students arrive in the winter 2021 term, they will be required to notify NSU's Student Health Insurance Office to activate their NSU Florida health insurance.

Option #2:
Study Online
from Abroad

Orientation

- We are unsure to what extent a first year student orientation will be provided for online students but the first year experience course (UNIV1000) serves as a semester-long introduction to NSU.
- The Office of International Affairs will offer remote orientation and support opportunities throughout the fall 2020 term.
